Meeting Notes

Weekend weekly meeting was called on the topic “Why & How to connect with Youth”. Mantri Narasimha Rao explained the purpose of calling for open session. Initiating the discussion, Sravan Rayagada opined to categorize the youth into studies pursuers and job seekers so as to provide necessary support to them. He also advised to start online classes for learning Telugu as many families have been staying in other countries and states where their children are missing the chance of learning mother tongue. In job seekers, according to him, there are desperate job seekers and for them we need a platform to provide jobs in our own or working companies. This will be a great help to their families. Expressing his opinion, Sravan suggested to pool up already known professionals and utilize their services. And for this purpose, he suggested to connect professionals and youth via dynamic website. ARK Rao, who is currently in USA, endorsed the views of Sravan and called for wider publicity on the activities through community associations.

In continuation to the topic, Mantri Narasimha Rao opined to initiate action with creation of exclusive WhatsApp group for job postings required by the organizations owned by Sistakaranams. Similarly, to post the jobs available in the organizations where referrals of Sistakaranams would fetch a job. He also suggested to create another group to express willingness of professionals to share their skills for community members.

Jaggumantri Sai from Dubai expressed his willingness to extend services to our community members in Dubai. Concluding the meeting. Sekharamantri Naraharinath put forwarded action items (a) to collect the profile of 10 job seekers (b) mentors list willing to share their skills (c) to create a group of job givers. He requested Mantri Narasimha Rao, Sravan and Chandrababu to create task forces for each task and show some progress by the end of February.
