Kartika Vana Samaradhanas by Our Families

In the context of the Corona pandemic, the annual congregations of our families in different countries and states during the auspicious "Kartika" month has been very low this year.

Nevertheless, this year, a few families celebrated the Kartika Vana Samaradhana re-joining with their relatives, especially from the Rajahmundry Sista Karana Samiti and the Vizianagaram District Garividi Sista Karana Sangham.

Such outings and picnics promote spiritual well-being and, along with health, promote affection between people thus contributing to social harmony and unity. The symbol of happiness is greenery. Sharing it and with hearts filled with joy, children and elders, spend time enjoying with dancing, singing and playing games. Going into parks & orchards, cooking under the amla or other trees, offering to Lord Parameshwara, eating the cooked items together, receiving the blessings of nature & the Lord, form the essence of a "Vana Bhojanam".

In the coming year, when Corona will end with the grace of God, let us celebrate the Kartika Vana Samaradhanas with great pomp and joy.

"Varam Varam Telugu Haram" Creator is no more

Late Sri Patnaikuni Venkateswara Rao, a well-known journalist who recently succumbed to Corona, and who introduced Telugu linguists under the title "Varam Varam Telugu Haram" web series, was born in Kavugodetivalasa, Srikakulam. An M.A. B.L. graduate, he refused his foster uncle's offer to get a job in the police department, and took up journalism. For three and a half decades, working with various dailies, he rose from a journalist to deputy news editor position. He would say nothing compares to the satisfaction of writing poetry, of doing reviews, and of reading a book. He revered Motherhood and Mother tongue. This hero rolled up his sleeves and took the path of a revolutionary for revival of the disappearing Telugu language.

During the 1999 super cyclone in the state, he visited every nook and corner meeting the victims and prepared a wonderful report. He would say that the special praise and reward received from 'Eenadu' MD Krian Kumar is an unforgettable event in his life.

In the words of a poet friend:

"He was a nickname for Kindness
Another name for Gentleness
A live example of Commitment
The very definition of Discipline
The Abode of Soft-Spokenness
A Signature of Goodwill
A Lethal Weapon against Injustice"

Sculptor par Excellence

Sri Chaudhary Satyannarayana Patnaik was born on December 6, 1925 in a village called Badam in Srikakulam district. He took up the Karanam duties performed by his father, for some time. He has four children Nataraja, Vidya Bhushan, Shanti Swarup and Ravishankar Patnaik. The youngest Ravishankar Patnaik is currently working as a Professor in the Department of Fine Arts, Andhra University, Visakhapatnam. He is also known for his modern style in sculpture.

Ajanta caves are famous for painting, Ellora caves are famous for sculpture. This is the wealth that history has given us. Both are ancient. Yet they are always new. The creation of artists that are awe-inspiring to scholars and laymen alike. They hold a special place among all fine arts.

It was that time after independence, when the country was taking baby steps in technology and development.

During those difficult times for artists to survive, training in the School of Arts under Devi Prasad Roy, our country's pride, made a difference to his life. In the final year, he learnt sculpture too along with painting. Subsequently, observing the making of huge bronze statues as a disciple of Devi Prasad Roy Chaudhari, he too sharpened his sculpting skills.

After working with Devi Prasad Roy Chowdhury for a while at Panikkar, with his encouragement, he took up a job at the Training College in Pentapadu, West Godavari district .

From training college, after a while, he was appointed as a professor at the Women's College in Guntur where he settled down. The university provided an opportunity to publish a research paper by looking at the sculpture art work as part of his north-India tour for research on the impact of metal sculptures-terracotta, under the university grants commission in 1975.

To be a sculptor, one has to do physical work along with creativity. Mr. Patnaik has immense knowledge in the five mediums of Mrinmaya, Sudha, Loha, Shila and Daru. Apart from being an artist, his demonstration of skills as a sculptor in many mediums has taken him places, mesmerizing audiences everywhere. Growing gradually from a painter, he served as president of the Andhra Pradesh Fine Arts Academy for five years. After his retirement as a sculpture faculty, he put full efforts as a sculptor and was able to attract to those people who would go to Madras to set up kansya statues in Andhra Pradesh. The sculptures with their different styles and the naturality of the living images contributed to this success. Despite great sculptors present in Madras, his creative skills helped him succeed in the competitive field. His long-term work as a teacher lets him elucidate how a beautiful sculpture is made from beginning to end.

The process of coating in metal sculpture is still new, but many experiments have been done by him in the past. He is an expert at the most popular box moulding and casting methods. Patnaik has done numerous experiments with the natural style of coloring with many chemicals, without any need of artificial colors after the casting. A season sculptor can mould any medium or any sculpture with his experienced hand. Whether a sculptor gets fame with his sculpture, or a sculpture gets fame because of the sculptor - the answer is both. One exists because of the other. So many experiments, so many mediums, his painting skills and his sculpture skills are his two eyes. Even his paintings, natural paintings, abstract paintings and mural paintings, have been sold in many national and international exhibitions.

The statues of historical figures on the Tank Bund and the statue of the Mahatma in the assembly premises have brought him a good name. Even at the age of ninety, his eloquence on the philosophy of arts, aesthetics to visitors, is music to the ears of this generation of artists. Straw, gold, emerald, diamond, or a rusting piece, nothing is ineligible for a true sculptor. It is not an exaggeration that Mr. Patnaik can create master pieces in a hundred mediums.

Recently, the World Telugu Artists Federation honored Patnaik at the film show in Visakhapatnam, and presented an opportunity to today's artists to witness him at his eloquent best.

After yet another mind-blowing performance from our very own Shanmukha Priya on the stage of the Indian Idol 2020, Shreya Dhanwanthary, lead actress of 'Scam 1992' summed it up in that one Telugu word! ### Adios, 2020!

As we step into a new year it is right time to reflect on the year gone by and take the lessons to the coming days of the new year.

What we witnessed in 2020 is something none of us have experienced in our lifetime. Covid19 has impacted us in ways which we could never have imagined. It brought entire world to a standstill and put a mask on the world. One of the everlasting painful memories is the loss of some of our near and dear ones to the deadly virus. The way of life or lifestyle as we know was completely turned upside down. We lived thru months of unending fear and periods of uncertainty.

On the flipside it helped us to get to know/connect new friends, relatives some of whom are very far geographically. It has shown that we can survive without eating outside food for months....that we can stay at home for days together.. that surviving/dodging the virus attack is the first priority in life, what it finally has shown is that the indomitable human spirit can be squeezed but will not be crushed and will renew life at the first available opportunity.

As they say "necessity is the mother of invention" the fact that you are reading this is a living proof of the above proverb.

The newsletter LEKHA is a product of the Covid lockdown. It will go to be the bridge for our community members spread across the globe. Do read and patronize its content and reach!

I am wishing all of you and those closest to your heart, a very Happy New year 2021.

INTERVIEW

"Workplaces, Schools are temples of learning"

Here is an accomplished person in Sistakaranam community who won the laurels of Artists of his own community across the globe and also created many treasures by founding Libraries for rural children, eventually recognized by Bangalore University where he was honoured with its prestigious "doctorate". He is none other than Dr. Dabbiru Govinda Rao and it is Lekha's privilege to interview him.

Dr. Govinda Rao hails from Basivada village of Julumuru mandal in Srikakulam district, Andhra Pradesh. His father was Dabbiru Suryarao and mother, Sarojinamma. Suryarao worked as Village Karanam. Govinda Rao has nine siblings and he is the sixth among them. He is working as a Government Teacher.

How do you look at your job?

It is not a job, but a professional service. I consider my workplaces, schools as temples of learning. My students from learning alphabets on my lap reached to the heights of success ranging from doctors, engineers, teachers to defence and police fields. While discharging my teacher duties in 31 years, I won the hearts of students' parents and stood as an example for many teachers. This gives me great satisfaction.

He also inspired many teachers through TV programs. He writes patriotic songs and showcases his talent at national festivals. Conducts special classes for children to allay their fears about mathematics and teaches math basics and embodiment. He is an outstanding man who taught discipline to children along with education and shaped the future of thousands of students by laying paths of progress.

You have, as a teacher, won awards as we understand. Is it not?

I got best teacher award at district level and in 2017 at state level by govt. of Andhra Pradesh.

Tell us about your journey in library services.

As a State Executive Member in AP Library Association, I started establishing libraries. I started it from my village where the library was furnished with books and other material worth of two lakh rupees. Subsequently, I took the position of General Secretary in the Association for Srikakulam district. Since then, I established 60 libraries in the villages of Srikakulam district to a tune of Rs.80 lakhs worth of books & other facilities. Knowing my services in this regard, Bangalore University conferred on me honorary doctorate. This is an unforgettable feeling of pride.

You are a record holder. What is that?

I consulted donors for installation of a statue of Mahatma Gandhi in villages and worked hard to erect about five hundred statues Vizianagaram and Srikakulam districts. Country Book of World

Records and Bravo International Book of World Records presented the award recognizing my work.

Tell us about Balaranjani?

Manipatruni

Nageswara Rao established an organization namely, Balaranjani and I joined him by taking Chief Secretary position for the welfare of children of Chittoor, Kurnool, Guntur, Nellore, Visakhapatnam and Srikakulam districts by establishing the branches of Balaranjani.

We heard that literary activities blossomed to its peak during corona quarantine period?

In order to unite the relatives, I joined the "Kalam Snehitulu" (pen friends) WhatsApp group as an admin and inspired all the relatives of the state, national and international to participate in the weekly event by inspiring everyone in the literary field without being subjected to any inferiority complexity during the corona. I am motivating of all age groups from children, youngsters, adults to old by writing myself poems, poetry, songs, painting and making them to do so. In this process, I have a lot of hidden talent in our Sistakaranam community across the globe.

Any message to our readers?

Lets do something for our fellowmen welfare as maximum as we can. If we do something better to others, we will be blessed by God. We have to teach our children that "Giving is living". I believe that if we recognise others we will be recognised. We must have positive attitude regarding our deeds. Serve all to be served. The moment which we render our services is ours, but not next. So let's leave something good behind us to be inspired our posterity

He organized national festivals, public awareness programs, youth and children's mobilization programs during united Andhra Pradesh and won accolades by conducting a mega event with ten thousand participants in one unison in Ranastalam mandal of Srikakulam district. He is skilled in writing situational songs and poems. Many take his advices and that reflects his talent. He raises funds during national calamities and help the victims. He extends his support to the employees and retired in services matters.

Lekha bows for his services and wishes him to reach further heights.

Kharagpur Sistakaranams do a Picnic

Inspired by Ikyavedika's activities - the online meetings, Dasara Sambaralu, and centenary year coverage in Lekha - it was only a matter of time before a picnic was organized for the community in Kharagpur.

Under the auspices of Sista Karana Associates (SKA) members Anantapatnaikuni Mani Sankar Rao garu, Mantri Bala Gangadhar garu, Sahini Sekhar Patnaik garu, Jaddhuantri RamaKrishna garu, Karakavalasa Rammohan Patnaik garu, Arashada Siva, Kuppili Dhamodhar Patnaik, Venkata Ramana Patnaik and several area wise activists in Kharagpur, a picnic was conducted on 27th December, 2020, where over 120 resident participated in the revels.

The Mahila Vibhagam of our association ensured it was a grand success, organizing various activities on the day, that included:

- Centenary Cake cutting: By Mantri Siresha and other ladies present
- Musical Chairs
- Individual and Group Dancing
- Ramp Walk

There was also a brief seminar where AMS Rao, Venkataramana Patnaik and others spoke, urging that more such events should be conducted in the future.

It may be noted that a get-together of this kind has happened after a very long time. Old timers recall such events were common in the 70s and 80s, but since then no such events were probably conducted.

The venue of this event was the Railway park, which was obtained with the help of local TMC MLA Pradeep Sarkar and Councilor Ramana garu who are very co-operative with the Telugu community in the area. In fact, they have been in the forefront leading the efforts to convince WB government to grant official status to Telugu Language.

Official Status to Telugu in WB

Most of the Residents of Kharagpur are Telugu speakers. It was they who have been urging the local MLA to recognize their language as an official language of the state. The MLA brought this request to the notice of the Chief Minister. Education Minister Partha Chatterjee said that the decision to recognize Telugu as the official language was taken at the request of the Residents of Kharagpur. He said that the Telugu speakers in the state are now recognized as minorities and that this decision created a happy atmosphere in Kharagpur.

IKYA VEDIKA ROUND UP

Update on Initiatives

Skill Development - We have kicked off series with Sri Naresh Patnaik who is a certified Leadership and softskill master trainer from Hyderabad.NP as he is popularly known has stressed the importance of communication skills to become successful in modern times in employment, job performance and even in business. He interacted with few teens who joined the session. the NP session left great impression on all participants and yearning more. Few seniors have laid the importance of expanding the sessions to include technical, software as well as personality development.

Business platform - The concept and purpose of the platform was explained to the willing participants and it will be integrated with the upcoming SKIV website to build a pool of community owned businesses. This will nicely build an ecosystem of businesses that our SK community can leverage based on individual requirements specific to locations. It will also act as information kiosk for the related government initiatives and opportunities related to start-ups.

VivahaVedika - This most popular initiative received lot of enquiries. SKIV team has started engaging with matrimonial agencies to build a prototype. it is still in its nascent stage and we are hoping to start with a small model in the coming few weeks.

Data Form - we are discussing with other data collecting groups to learn best practices for its implementation and will be rolling out the form beginning of the new year.

Social Media outreach - to connect with all SK generations we have started a Facebook page, an Instagram page and a YouTube channel specific to our community. We request you to follow and ask our community members to connect as well.

Ikyavedika Digital Team
